Teachers reject contract 50-15

Teachers of Antioch Grade School District 34 rejected a contract presented to them by the board of education last week, by a 50 to 15 vote.

Teachers' union members rejected the contract by a 44 to 10 vote while non-union members present turned it down by a simple majority, 6 to 5.

Richard Bryan, chairman of the negotiating committee and teachers' spokesman, said that "everyone in the audience had their reasons for rejecting the contract."

However, he said the teachers did not like the manner in which they were presented with a contract nor the omission of several items in the contract.

District 34 Supt. Donald Skidmore said that he thought the general contract was well accepted by the teachers, but that they did not like the manner in which it was presented to them.

THE BOARD DECIDED last week to halt negotiations with the teachers and instead offer them a two-year contract, which they presented to them last Wednesday.

The teachers were scheduled to meet with the board Feb. 26 to continue negotiations. A federal mediator had been appointed to help settle the contract dispute between the teachers and the board.

Bryan said the teachers plan to still attend the negotiations meeting Monday night and that they expect to meet with the board there.

Skidmore said the board was scheduled to meet last night to discuss whether it will attend the meeting on Monday.

"The board has voted to adopt the contract, and it is valid. Now we have to wait and see what the teachers will do," he added.

Bryan said the teachers expect to see the board at the negotiation meeting Monday. "We can't imagine a school board breaking a written agreement (to negotiate)," he said.

"We've got to get back and deal with this in the proper manner, as agreed," Bryan continued. "The teachers are convinced if both sides want a settlement, we'll get one."

Skidmore, who was not present when the teachers voted to reject the contract, said, "It's my understanding that the displeasure was not with the contract itself, but the way it was adopted and presented to them, as a cut-off in negotiations."

"Now the ball is sort of in their (the teachers') park," he added.

Bryan said the teachers did not approve of the board's attempt to deal with all of the teachers as a whole rather than through the negotiating process.

"We want to keep negotiations as they're properly supposed to be," Bryan continued.

"I think we surprised them by rejecting the contract," Bryan added.

He said he thought the board presented the teachers with the contract in the hope of ending negotiations by providing a 14.1 percent salary increase over the next two school years.

By rejecting the proposal, Bryan said, "This proves that we're interested in more than money. We care about it (the contract) a good deal more than that."

ONE IMPORTANT ASPECT of the contract that the teachers want, Bryan said, is to include a provision for a fair, impartial third party to listen to teacher's grievances rather than having the board be the ultimate judge in grievance procedures.

He added, "A contract is a mutual promise between two or more parties. One side alone can't make a contract."

Bryan said the contract the board proposed to teachers last week "stressed the things we have agreed on and omitted the things most important to teachers."

He said the teachers believe it is very important that the board be present for negotiations Monday night. "There will be a lot of mad teachers if they don't show."

Snow record inches away

With more than a month of winter ahead, Antioch only needs three more inches of snow to break last year's all-time record accumulation of 82 inches.

Tom Robinson, official weather observer for the National Weather Service in Antioch, said the village has had 79 inches of the white stuff so far this winter and at this point "we're ahead of last year's snow fall."

Temperatures throughout the week ranged from a high of 31 last Wednesday to Sunday's bone-chilling 13 below.

Last week Antioch experienced only a trace of snow throughout much of the week, with a glaze of ice on Wednesday, he said.

Sunday the village received three more inches of snow, which was promptly cleared away from streets by the village public works crew.

Then Monday morning Antioch awoke to a breathtaking sight — snow-covered, almost crystal trees against a backdrop of blue sky.

Robinson explained the phenomenon in technical terms.

A low ceiling of warm air hitting the cold, snowy ground holds heat in and causes frosting, he said. That caused the early-morning fog Monday and condensed on the trees and froze.

Later in the day the sun wiped out the beautiful winter spectacle, but mounds of snow remained on street curbs to remind us that we still have a long way to go until spring.

WINTER'S BEAUTY covers the trees that surround Sequoit Creek early in the morning before the sun has a chance to take it all away. The low ceiling of warm air condensed on trees and caused this natural spectacle. (News photo by Sue Nasenbeny.)

Village awarded $5,464 in snow removal aid

Antioch has been awarded $5,464 in federal aid for snow removal operations during the "Blizzard of '79," Mayor Michael Haley announced at the village board meeting.

The village applied for $8,192 in disaster assistance and received two-thirds of its request, he said. "All our snow removal operations fell into the federal guidelines for assistance," Haley explained.

"This will be a tremendous help to our snow removal budget," he added.

ALSO AT THE MEETING, the board approved payment for a weather forecasting service from Murray and Trettel, Inc., certified consulting meteorologists.

The service would cost $700 for forecasting weather from now until late fall, and half of that amount would be reimbursed to the village by Antioch High School.

Supt. of Public Works Walt Shepard had said the service would provide local emergency weather information on such conditions as snowstorms, tornadoes and heavy rains.

He explained that this would give the village crew a three to five hour headstart on any disaster, such as a blizzard.

During a rainy season, the village would be alerted to possible flooding conditions

Mom sues high school for expelling her son

by Sue Nasenbeny

She said she's not looking for money. "I only want the conditions changed at Antioch High School," said Rosa Massengill, mother of an expelled student at the high school.

Massengill, of Lake Villa, has filed a federal complaint which she plans to take to court against the high school for abusing her son's rights, she said.

Her son, a sophomore at Antioch High, was first suspended after giving a school bus driver an offensive note for making him get off the bus and walking five miles home on a cold day last December.

She explained her son wrote the note because he had ridden the same bus for one and one-half years but the bus driver made him get off the bus because he was not carrying his school identification card.

Massengill said the bus driver had never asked for the ID card previously and had not asked any of the other students on the bus for an ID card.

The message on the note read, "Have a nice day; (deleted)," she said.

Massengill has filed her class action suit against the school through the Waukegan office of Prairie State Legal Services, on behalf of all students who have had their rights similarly abused there, she said.

Antioch High School officials said they could not comment on the suit on the advice of their attorney, because of pending litigation.

However, they said they will probably reply to the suit by the end of March.

Massengill said ever since news of the suit appeared in the Waukegan News-Sun last week, her telephone has been "ringing off the hook with calls from lots of parents" who have been sympathetic to her actions.

She said her son "is not a problem child. I think it (the expulsion) is an unfair deal and a lot of people have called to tell me they agree with me."

She said she had to leave home Friday afternoon and not even answer the calls, which have been pouring in. She said quite a few students have called her to say "thank-you" for bringing about the suit.

"I realize there are two sides to every story, but also that things should be worked out. My son's education is at stake," she added.

After her son had been suspended, she said he walked and hitch-hiked back to school, asking officials to "please let him back in school."

"They told him to get out of school because he was suspended and they wouldn't even give him his homework when he asked for it," Massengill said.

Her son had been declared truant in December, she said, for missing several days of school.

When she received a notice informing her that her son must attend school or legal action would be taken against her, she asked her son to attend school regularly.

Massengill said her son told her he would not cause her any problem and would go to school the next day — which was the day the bus driver would not let him ride the bus.

"The point I'm bringing across is that if he doesn't go to school, it's illegal, but if they don't let him go to school, it's okay. Either way, it's truancy. Do you think this is fair?" she asked.

She said expelling her son "is not the answer. I want him to get an education. He's not old enough for vocational school and not old enough to drop out."

Her suit alleges her son was suspended without being granted a hearing, that she was not informed of the charges against her son in a letter notifying her of a meeting to consider his expulsion, that at the hearing her son was charged with offenses he had been disciplined for in the past, and that her son had not been notified that his past record would be used against him so he could prepare a defense.

The school voluntarily has reinstated her son in school, although a district court judge asked school officials to do so pending further litigation.

However, Massengill added, "the case is definitely still on."

In the school board's special meeting last week, they decided unanimously to grant the superintendent the right to pay substitute teachers, in the event of a strike, the wage of $60 per day.

Supt. Skidmore said that this is the board's means of "preparing for a strike."

We hope that we won't have one, of course."

Bryan said the $60 per day rate is twice as much as the regular pay for substitute teachers. "They're apparently preparing for a strike. The teachers want to negotiate a settlement and we presume the board would prefer to do the same."

McClory honored by small business group

Congressman Robert McClory, R-13th, Illinois, recently received a 100 percent rating from the National Federation of Independent Business, an association representing the interests of small businessmen across the country.

Following each session of Congress, the National Federation of Independent Business (NFIB) evaluates the voting record of all members of Congress to determine how often each legislator supported the positions of small business on a variety of key issues.

Late last month, NFIB announced its most recent ratings for the second session of the 95th Congress. The ratings were based upon voting records on legislation pertaining to taxation, civil service reform, business regulation and consumer affairs.

McClory's 100 percent rating means that the positions of the Congressman during 1978 were in complete agreement with the concerns of small businessmen as expressed by NFIB.

"I was grateful to learn that my voting record was fully consistent with the positions of the National Federation of Independent Business," McClory said.

"It is essential that we provide a favorable commercial climate for small independent businessmen and women who represent the backbone of our system of free private enterprise," he added.

The National Federation of Independent Business is a non-partisan, non-profit organization of independent business and professional persons which was established to give its members a more effective voice in lawmaking and government affairs.

NFIB is the largest individual membership business organization in the country with over 500,000 members.

In mid-June of this year Congressman McClory will receive the NFIB "Guardian of Small Business Award" at a banquet honoring members of Congress who are particularly supportive of small business interests.

RTA to hold meeting to 'help improve service'

Because the Regional Transportation Authority has "not been as enthusiastically received as hoped," a meeting to gather input from local officials will be held next week.

Leon Kaye, public information officer for the RTA, explained that mayors and local officials from this area as well as any concerned residents are invited to attend the meeting, to be held at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 28 at the Grayslake Village Hall.

The RTA has conducted a recent survey on bus routes 570 and 573, which covers Antioch, Fox Lake and Grandwood Park and Channel Lake and Antioch to Grayslake, respectively.

Kaye said the meeting will be held to discuss the bus service and to receive suggestions to "help improve the service."

Representatives from various RTA departments will be attending, and officials and mayors from such communities as Antioch, Grayslake, Round Lake, Fox Lake, Lake Villa and Lindenhurst have been invited to attend.

Also invited are members of the Lake County Regional Planning and the Lake County Highway supervisor.

In addition, representatives from the College of Lake County and the American Association of Retired Persons have been asked to attend.

Fill out federal income tax

The first step in filling out your Illinois Income Tax form is to take out a federal income tax form and complete it, according to officials at the Illinois Department of Revenue.

"You must have the 'adjusted gross income' information from a federal tax return before you can begin filling out your state tax return," said Gary Ey, manager of the revenue department's income tax processing division.

"Line 1 of the state income tax return calls for this 'adjusted gross income' figure," Ey noted.

In addition, Ey said, some documents from the federal return are required for taxpayers to verify certain state-income tax subtraction entries, such as for pension support and interest derived from the U.S. government bonds, notes or bills.

Ey reminded taxpayers that all such documents, along with W-2 forms, should be stapled to the state tax return before mailing.

Taxpayers may receive information and assistance free-of-charge at district offices of the Illinois Department of Revenue located in Chicago, Evergreen Park, Wauconda, West Chicago, Niles, Oak Park or Rockford.

Persons needing assistance may also call the department toll-free at 800-252-8972.

The deadline for mailing state income tax returns is midnight, April 16.

The first state to ratify the Constitutional amendment lowering voting age to 18 was Ohio, on June 30, 1971.

Pierce lists objectives as revenue head

Rep. Daniel M. Pierce, D. Highland Park, has been re-appointed chairman of the House Revenue Committee by House Speaker William Redmond.

Pierce served as chairman of the tax writing Revenue Committee during the 80th General Assembly in 1977-78 where he sponsored several tax reform bills.

Speaker Redmond's reappointment of Pierce for the new 81st General Assembly will cover the 1979 and 1980 sessions of the Illinois legislature.

In 1978, Pierce's committee passed out legislation granting senior citizens additional circuit-breaker tax relief. Other legislation that was passed into law was homestead exemptions for increased assessments for all Illinois citizens and an increase in senior citizen homestead exemptions.

Pierce was chief sponsor of H.B. 3279 which granted circuit-breaker relief to all low and middle income families in Illinois. Although this bill passed both Houses of the General Assembly, it was vetoed by Gov. Thompson.

Pierce stated his objectives for the 1979 session of the General Assembly as follows:

1. Reduce assessments on homes from 33 percent of fair market value to 25 percent.
2. Provide homestead exemption for the first $5,000 in increased assessment for all homeowners in Illinois.
3. Redraft the Illinois school aid formula so that school districts will not lose state aid when assessments are increased. At present, districts are unable to lower their tax rates after increased assessments because of the loss of state aid under the present formula.

Pierce also expressed optimism that the maximum income for senior citizens to qualify for the circuit-breaker program would be increased from $10,000 to $15,000 during the present session.

He said tax and spending limitations will be of the highest priority in the House Revenue Committee.

"We wait anxiously," Pierce added, "for Governor Thompson's suggested legislation to implement his tax referendum which appeared on the ballot in November." So far, Gov. Thompson has failed to make any recommendations to the General Assembly to implement the so-called "Thompson Proposition," Pierce said.

Kirkpatrick named to Savings and Loan board

Dick Kirkpatrick, president of Kirkpatrick and Company, Certified Public Accountants, has recently been named to the board of directors of the Antioch Savings and Loan Association.

He is also a member of the board of directors for the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry and was a past president.

He serves as chairman of the board of directors for Gaslite Illinois, Inc., a Chicago area appliance distributor and chairman of Budget and Finance for Central Baptist Children's Home in Lake Villa.

Kirkpatrick is also trustee for the First Baptist Church of Waukegan, chairman of the Antioch Village Plan Commission and conducts small tax workshops periodically at the College of Lake County.

A native of Lake County, Kirkpatrick was born in Waukegan and is a graduate of Waukegan Township High School.

In 1957, he received his B.A. degree from Lake Forest College and began his career in accounting.

In 1961, after completing a two-year tour of service with the U.S. Army, and while working for an area public accounting firm, he became a Certified Public Accountant in Illinois.

In 1963, Kirkpatrick first came to Antioch to audit a company known as Charmglow Products which he later joined, directing its financial affairs from 1965 through 1975; a period during which the company grew from a small local company to one whose products would be distributed nationally.

In early 1976, he elected to become a part of the growth of the Antioch area, resigned his position as vice president of administration at Charmglow and opened his own accounting firm, Kirkpatrick and Company, Certified Public Accountants.

Dick, his wife Pat, also a native of Lake County, and their three sons have lived in Sunset Ridge Subdivision in Antioch since 1974.

Procedures underway for Oakwood Knolls special assessment

By Sue Nasenbeny

The beginning procedures are underway for a special assessment in the Oakwood Knolls subdivision for added storm sewers.

The Antioch Village Board decided Monday night to authorize the village engineer to draw up plans to determine a special assessment figure to take care of storm water drainage in the subdivision.

About 20 residents of the subdivision turned up last week for a village public works committee meeting to find out what could be done about the storm water problem in the area.

Joe Veith, president of the Oakwood Knolls property owners association, said a good cross-section of the homeowners in the subdivision, for both homes that would be directly affected by a flooding problem and those that would not, attended the meeting.

Antioch officials informed the group that the village could not afford to install a complete storm sewer system in Oakwood Knolls until a later date and that their priority was to get the water out of town first.

The village's decision to first channelize and deepen Sequoit Creek would carry the water out of town faster, Veith pointed out.

When the Oakwood Knolls area was first annexed in 1953, he said the area was all farmland. "They never thought it would grow to the extent Antioch has," Veith explained, which is the reason storm sewer systems were not constructed.

Other Antioch subdivisions, which were built later, had to pay the cost of constructing their own storm water system, which is what Oakwood Knolls residents may also have to do.

Veith said of 420 homes in the subdivision, about 135 acres would be directly affected by the special assessment to add storm water drainage.

During flooding last August, Veith said some cars in the subdivision were completely under water. "Maplewood Drive was under about five feet of water and Cedarwood had at least three feet," he added.

Veith explained that those residents which the special assessment would not directly benefit would stand to gain secondarily through the rise in property value of the entire area if storm sewers were installed.

"I hope to see the whole area assessed," he said.

He added that his home would not be directly affected by the special assessment, but "what's good for one is good for all."

Vacant lots would also rise in value, he said, if the drainage system was installed.

In the past seven years, Veith said he has seen four or five flood years, "but none as bad as last year."

The entire project, if approved, could be implemented as early as next year, Veith said.

A meeting of homeowners to discuss the assessment and the drainage problem will be held at Veith's home Feb. 28. Homeowners may contact him at 395-6916.

and would help prepare the crew at the sewer plant.

Shepard said since the high school is willing to pay for half the cost, he thought it was a good decision to try the weather service.

The high school, he said, wanted the service to predict the weather for its outdoor activities and to find out if school needed to be closed during a snowstorm.

ALSO AT THE meeting, the board okayed the extension of the vehicle sticker deadline to Feb. 28 due to adverse weather conditions, Trustee Ron Cunningham said.

After that date, there will be a $2 penalty for village vehicle stickers.

Also, the board approved hiring A. Mueller Home Planning Service for a study for a senior center as part of the Community Development block grant.

The service would include a study of a possible building site, the feasibility of the site and site plans at a cost of $600.

The planing service would also include the development of architectural drawings, specifications and the evaluations of bids at a cost of $1,400.

Also at the meeting, the board authorized the superintendent of public works to secure proposals for lighting the Little League field, including materials.

The Little League Parent Association was also allowed to move the fence around the baseball field with the superintendent of public works' approval.

Thomas J. Kelly, president of Antioch Savings and Loan Association, was recently elected treasurer of the Chaplaincy Service, Inc., an interfaith group supplying accredited chaplains to the County Jail and Winchester House in Lake County.

In addition, the Chaplaincy Service is the parent organization for Chain-O-Lakes Senior Services, and the Meals with Wheels program for the Antioch area.

Meals with Wheels provides one hot meal per day to elderly shut-ins in the Lakes region.

High school board meeting set Thursday

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education of Antioch Community High School, District 117, Lake County, Antioch, will be held at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, Feb. 22, in the Board Room, board president Robert Lindblad announced.

NAMES

Navy Airman Recruit Andre R. Daniel Jr., son of Delores and Daniel Andre Sr. of 963 Petite Court, Lake Villa, has completed the Aviation Support Equipment Technician's Hydraulic Course.

During the nine-week course at the Naval Air Technical Training Center, Millington, Tenn., students received instruction on the inspection, maintenance and repair of basic hydraulic systems.

He joined the Navy in June 1978.

Supt. Hogan offered new 3-year contract

Richard Hogan, who is completing his first year as superintendent of Grass Lake School district 36, was offered a new three-year contract by the board of education.

Board President John Streitz explained that the board "really likes this man. He's done an amazing job for the school district."

Hogan was hired last year under a two-year contract and the board decided to extend his contract for the next three years since "he's done such a terrific job," Streitz said.

Provisions in the contract, such as salary and travel expenses will be worked out later, Streitz said.

He said the contract was presented in February since contract plans must be finalized in March in order to be valid for the next school year.

He added that he expects the contract to be finalized sometime next month.

Main Street repaving, traffic signal speed up planned

Main Street in Antioch between Rte. 173 and North Ave. most likely will be resurfaced and the traffic signal at Main and Lake Streets will probably be modernized through federal grant funding.

Village Clerk Marilyn Sterbenz said the grant, from the U.S. Department of Transportation, would be reviewed before final approval.

The village has requested an estimated $227,500 in funding, about 85 percent of the total project cost. The state and village would probably fund the remaining 15 percent of the resurfacing and traffic modernization.

Supt. of Public Works Walt Shepard explained that the modernization could include placing the traffic light on Lake and Main on a flashing red light to speed traffic during peak periods.

During an experiment last week, the lights were placed on flashing red to determine if this would improve traffic and police reported no backups during this time.

Another solution to traffic backups would be to place the traffic light on a shorter cycle, Shepard added.

Report details growing energy problem

Unless Americans find new sources of energy—and more efficient ways to use their present energy supplies—their high standard of living will suffer a drastic decline.

That's the conclusion of a free, 16-page report entitled, "Energy—A Growing National Problem," published by the National Wildlife Federation.

With illustrations, graphs, and text, the report examines what energy resources are available in the U.S. today, how Americans can conserve these resources, and what new energy alternatives may be developed in the future.

The NWF report emphasizes the need for conservation and suggests specific ways in which the "four big energy users"—industry, transportation, homes and offices, and utilities—can become energy savers.

However, the report continues, "aside from conservation, we need long-range solutions."

The report focuses on six "promising alternatives," listing their advantages and disadvantages.

Solar heating, solar electricity, wind power, biomass, fusion, and geothermal power are all low-polluting energy sources which have a significant and growing priority in the federal budget.

The report concludes with a glossary of energy terms, from "barrell" to "watt."

For a free copy of the report, write: Educational Services, National Wildlife Federation, 1412 16th Street, NW, Washington, D.C. 20036. Additional copies are available for 25 cents each.

Ex-spy to speak at CLC

Ex-spy and controversial author Peter James will speak at the College of Lake County in Grayslake at 8 p.m. Thursday, March 1.

The presentation, titled "The Embryo of an American Police/State," will be held in the Blue Lecture Hall and is free and open to the public.

Author of the book "The Air Force Mafia," James is touring the United States recruiting volunteers for his newly created "Center to Expose Governmental Corruption."

Tagging the volunteer effort as "Operation Red Dog," he hopes to expose governmental corruption and questionable intelligence activities through volunteer research projects coordinated by former intelligence experts and investigators.

A former employee of Pratt and Whitney Aircraft, he was fired after he made known his intention to expose corruption within the military-industrial complex.

During his nine years as a rocket engineer with the aircraft firm, he became heavily involved with both the CIA and Air Force Intelligence as he traveled throughout Europe and South America attending scientific conventions.

James' revelations led to a House and Senate inquiry in 1974.

Since that time he has cooperated with the Watergate Committee, the Rockefeller Commission and the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on matters of covert governmental activities.

The program, billed as both entertaining and provocative, includes a question and answer session with the audience and is designed to be of interest to both adults and school-age children.

WATCH OUT for the partial solar eclipse this Monday, starting at 9:37 in the morning!

That's when the moon will start its pass between Earth and the sun, providing us with the last solar eclipse of the 20th century.

The folks at the Illinois Society for the prevention of blindness told me to remind you that even though this is a partial eclipse, it will be just as dangerous to peek at the sun.

The invisible rays which the sun gives out at this time can cause harmful burns to our eyes, even though we may not realize it at the time, not until it's too late.

Even sunglasses don't give you adequate protection, so be careful.

JUST FOUND OUT from Gene Zannini who the recipients of the dividends for the St. Peter's Mutual Aid fund for January and February were!

For January, Robert Gossman of Rte. 3 received $300, Ted Sokulski of Bayview Drive was awarded $200 and Al and Florence Pedersen of Bowles Road received $100. All of these fine people are from Antioch.

In February, Charlotte Taylor of Spafford Street in Antioch received $300, Edward Linsey of Suraya Drive in Antioch was given $200 and Charles Reinhart of School Street in Grayslake received $100.

Congratulations to all the recipients.

ANOTHER LUCKY WINNER for Antioch! Irma Hostetter won the Valentine Drawing at Johnson Jewelers. She received a diamond ring! Congrats, Irma.

OOPS, I MISSED a birthday wish. Karl Kreulach, of Antioch, celebrated this past Monday. Karl is now 11.

There's another big birthday celebration coming up. Greg Teegen, a first grader at Emmons, will have seven candles to blow out on the 26th. I just bet he can't wait! Happy Birthday, Greg!

Teenager needs foster home

Scott, age 15, needs a place to live for about four months. Presently he lives with his brother, but their relationship has deteriorated.

A "time out" period is needed during which Scott would live in another home, attend school, be involved in counseling, and visit his brother every weekend, the Lake County Foster Home coordinator announced.

Scott wants a chance to work things out with his brother, but needs a neutral home environment for a while.

Scott is a quiet, pleasant boy who feels unsure of himself. He needs a lot of encouragement.

If you can help Scott, call Lake County Juvenile Probation immediately at the Lake County Courthouse (689-6343).

ALL RIGHT, GIRLS. You remember me telling you a while back about that blonde floozie who moved back into town? Well, I've got some good news and some bad news.

First the good news. She's moved back out. (Thank goodness.) But we've got somebody new to replace her — her brunette sister, who makes the blonde look like a Sunday-school teacher.

Well. All I can say is — start watching out for your husbands again! Especially don't trust any brunette in a low-cut satin dress!

Miss Antioch contestants

Andrea Kleban enjoys singing

Petite Andrea Kleban, 18, candidate in the Miss Antioch contest, enjoys being a member of the high school pom-pom squad as well as choir.

The brunette, hazel-eyed contestant said she has been a member of the pom-pom squad at Antioch High School for the past three years, entertaining crowds at half-time of football and basketball games.

Andrea, a senior at the high school, is also active in acapella choir and will be in the musical "South Pacific" this spring.

ANDREA KLEBAN

She also is trying out for the school variety show, where she would like to sing.

Andrea said she would like to attend college somewhere in Illinois next fall to pursue a career in music.

Some of the colleges she would like to attend include the Chicago Conservatory of Music, Northwestern, Millikin and Illinois Wesleyan.

Her voice ranges from second alto to first soprano, and Andrea said she would like to sing professionally some day.

For the Miss Antioch contest, she said she would like to sing one of Barbara Streisand's songs.

The 5 foot 1 inch contestant from Lindenhurst also likes to go horseback riding and occasionally likes to snow ski.

Andrea's busy schedule includes going to school, practicing for pom-pom after school and working at a clothes store on weekends.

She is the daughter of Barry Kleban and the deceased Mrs. Kleban. Andrea has three brothers, Mitch, 21, Brad, 19, and Michael, 15, and one sister, Melanie, 12.

Dawn Quedenfeld likes graphic arts

Dawn Quedenfeld, 17, a Miss Antioch contestant, said she enjoys her active roles in band and in musicals, but would eventually like to pursue a career in drafting or graphic arts.

The brunette contestant explained that she is one of a few girls enrolled in mechanical drafting courses at Antioch High School, where she is a senior, and said she "loves it."

Dawn said she gets lots of help from the guys in the class, and added that her drafting instructor, Roland Schleusener, told her there is a wide job market for girls involved in that field.

What really helped make up her mind about drafting was her on-the-job experience as an assistant at Jude R. Larson print shop in Benet Lake, Wis. where she works after school, she said.

"I do drafting — layouts for programs, business cards, that sort of thing," she explained. "I really like my job."

Dawn has worked there for the past year and said that helped her decide to go on to the College of Lake County next year to pursue drafting, or graphic arts at another community college.

The honor-roll student is also talented musically. She is a member of the symphonic band at the high school, where she plays the flute and saxophone.

Dawn has chosen to play a flute solo by Mozart for the talent portion of the contest, entitled, "Adante."

She is also active in school plays, such as "Once Upon a Mattress," "Guys and Dolls," and this spring will be a part of the musical "South Pacific."

Dawn is also very involved in student council, where she was a representative for three years and this year is secretary of the council for the student body.

Dawn, who has been named to the National Honor Society, also enjoys her hobbies of collecting turtles "I have a whole room full!" she laughed, and making quilts. Presently her project is a quilt for her brother's room.

Dawn is the daughter of Jim and Elsie Quedenfeld of Antioch, and has one brother, Gary, 13, who attends Antioch Upper Grade School.

Park Avenue Gallery sets up year-round Christmas corner

Sue and LoAl of Park Avenue Gallery are setting up what is to be Antioch's first "year round Christmas corner."

The merchandise occupying this section of their store consists of a new line of tree ornaments, candle holders, candles and miniature lanterns, for example.

A new ornament will be added monthly, and when the holiday season begins shoppers can obtain enough ornaments for their tree or for gifts.

Sue and LoAl agree that this "corner" has its advantages for shoppers.

A customer may see an item, either for themselves or a gift, and they can get it months before Christmas and still have their regular season shopping budget intact. The little extras are what adds up.

Also, many grandmothers may like to make it a tradition of giving their grandchildren an ornament every Christmas and this would make it very easy and economical for them.

Also, many of Antioch's residents have relatives living anywhere from 100 to thousands of miles away.

What could be nicer than sending an ornament to a loved one, thus a souvenir from your town, to be cherished yearly, they asked.

Right now their corner is more of a "nook." They said they are cutting down on some of the crafts and everything is half off. "We plan to use that area to expand our Christmas line," they added.

Sue and LoAl have also added a complete line of Sesame Street party goods. Also, a line of Star Wars party supplies should be here in two weeks, they said.

They are making changes for more room and suggested to come in and browse, and don't forget the Christmas Corner!

This Agatha Christie-type murder mystery, set to music, has been delighting audiences at the PM&L Theater, 877 Main St. in Antioch. Director Ken Smouse said.

Curtain time is 8:30 p.m., and guests should be sure to call 395-3055 to make reservations for whichever of the two last performances they plan to see.

The PM&L production of this highly unusual British musical comedy is directed by Antioch stage veteran Ken Smouse, who said he is fortunate to have the able assistance of an "all-star cast and crew."

The show's music is bouncy and melodic, with many big production numbers, he said.

Audiences who have seen this murder mystery are in basic agreement on two points — they were astounded to discover "who did it" in the end and that the show is just what was needed to help forget about the month of winter left.

Guests should be sure to make reservations and to appear at the PM&L box office before 8:15 of the night they plan to see the show.

Until then, the cast cannot tell you who did it. They can only say that the butler didn't.

Program on narcotics set for tonight

A program on "Drug Enforcement" will be presented tonight by Tom Brown, newly elected sheriff of Lake County, and his narcotic enforcement group.

The talk will be given at 8 p.m. at the Antioch Township Hall on Rte. 173.

The event is sponsored by the Antioch Republican Club and all citizens are invited to attend.

FINANCIAL NEWS

[Editor's Note: This financial news column is designed for the general education of our readers. Mr. Schaub, assistant vice president of the Antioch Savings & Loan Association, will discuss areas such as taxes, insurance, investments and financial planning in general.]

Philip Schaub

Among the many things changed in the tax laws in 1978 were the minimum income levels where you have to file a federal income tax return. The minimums apply to gross income, not adjusted gross. Any citizen or resident alien has to file if their gross income exceeds the following limits:

FILING STATUS	INCOME
Single, under 65	$2,950
Single, over 64	3,700
Married Filing Jointly:
both under 65	4,700
one over 64	5,450
both over 64	6,200
Married Filing Separately	750
Qualified Surviving Spouse:
under 65	3,950
over 64	4,700
Self-Employed Net Earnings	400
Dependent unearned income	750

If your income for 1978 was equal to or over these amounts, you have to file a return even if you don't end up owing any income tax. You always have to file to get a refund from the IRS.

The $750 amount for married filing separately also applies if you and your spouse maintain separate households. It applies also if someone other than yourself can claim a dependency exemption for you.

Minors' returns should be filed by their guardians or whoever is responsible for the care of their property or person. If a minor's income taxes are not paid, any assessment against his tax on wages can be treated as an assessment against the minor's parent.

At the end of my columns, I point out that I am not an attorney or an accountant. I advise you to check with your attorney, your accountant, or the IRS before taking any action suggested to you by my column. This is as true and as important this week as ever. One reason you cannot rely on my column is that I rely partially on the IRS for my information. I know who to call at the local IRS office, but I still can't get past this fundamental problem of asking the IRS people questions. There is no guarantee that they are right. The IRS does make people available to answer questions, but if the IRS person you talk to is wrong, you're the one on the hook. The IRS is not responsible for errors made by its employees. Your accountant and your attorney can sometimes be held accountable for giving you bad advice. The IRS cannot be held accountable for mistakes.

If you want to call them, their numbers again are 435-1040 or toll-free 800-252-2921.

Cancer Society offers students scholarships

The Lake County Units of the American Cancer Society are offering a 1979 Summer Scholarship Program in cooperation with three area hospitals.

Condell Memorial Hospital, Libertyville; North Chicago V.A. Hospital, North Chicago; and St. Therese Hospital, Waukegan, will provide 11 area high school students an opportunity to receive first hand medical experience this summer.

The purpose of the summer scholarship program is to provide exposure for high school students in the clinical laboratory so they can develop an appreciation for life sciences and to help them determine whether they wish to work toward a vocation in the medical or para-medical field.

The scholarship opportunity is presented only through the science departments of Lake County High Schools and only to sophomore and junior students who are non-smokers.

Students who are interested should present their completed applications for the 1979 Scholarship Program at the office of the Lake County Unit of the American Cancer Society, 2835 Belvidere, Waukegan, by March 1.

Jon, Marvin Gibson qualify for state

Two of the most respected high school wrestlers in Illinois happen to be brothers, and they will be representing Antioch in the state championships Friday and Saturday in the Assembly Hall in Champaign.

Jon Gibson won the 105-pound sectional title at Rockford last weekend while Marvin Gibson was placing second at 126 pounds.

Jon won his sectional crown with a pin, a superior decision and then a 2-0 victory in the finals over Todd Wilson of Wheeling.

HIS COACH, Ted DeRousse, said this will be the Antioch junior's second trip to the state tournament. Jon placed fifth last year at 98 pounds.

Marvin lost a close 7-6 decision in the sectional finals to Jim Patapack of Rockford Harlem.

The 126-pound class turned out to be the toughest in the sectionals. Marvin reached the finals by scoring a pin and a decision before meeting Patapack. Marvin has placed high in the state tournament the last two years and again will be one of the wrestlers to beat in his weight class.

Dave Unrien, competing for Antioch at 112 pounds in the sectionals, opened with a 9-1 major decision but then lost in the semifinals.

ANOTHER SEQUOIT wrestler, Kirk Sarmont, lost a 4-2 decision to the eventual champion in his weight class.

As a team, the Sequoits scored enough points to place fourth in the big sectional field. Grant was first, Waukegan East second, and Glenbrook North third. More than 20 teams were entered.

Sequoits play at home Saturday

Their winning ways have been curbed temporarily ... they aren't getting the won-lost record they or their fans hoped for ... but nobody can say Antioch High's Sequoits aren't having an interesting basketball season.

After defying all of the pre-season forecasts and becoming contenders for the Northwest Suburban Conference championship, the Sequoits have been knocked out of the race. The latest blow was last Friday's 66-59 loss to Lake Zurich.

Then, on Saturday, Antioch went to Belvidere for a non-conference game and lost a 63-61 overtime decision.

TWO MORE INTERESTING games are coming up this weekend. Antioch, now tied for third in the conference with a 7-5 record, travels to Stevenson Friday night to play the Patriots, another team at 7-5.

Saturday night, Antioch will be home for an 8 o'clock game with Lake Forest. It is a makeup game that was postponed earlier by the Blizzard of '79.

The conference championship is now a two-way struggle involving Warren, 10-2, and Wauconda, 9-3. They will fight it out this weekend.

In what has been the most evenly-balanced conference race in many years, four teams are tied for third with 7-5 records — Antioch, Stevenson, Grant and Lake Zurich.

Grayslake, 1-11, and Round Lake, 0-12, have been the only teams unable to knock off any given foe on any given night. But the top six teams have made it a sizzling race, and Warren and Wauconda survived only by winning most of the close ones. Wauconda, for example, suffered its first loss of the season here in Antioch, in a close game. Since then, the Bulldogs have been winning the thrillers instead of losing them.

IN LAST FRIDAY'S seven-point loss to Lake Zurich, Pete Ploss once again led Antioch in scoring with 22 points.

Coach Roger Andrews said he feels his Sequoits must "redevelop a positive attitude."

"We can do the job," he said, which means Antioch can finish the regular season with some victories and then do well when the tournaments begin.

"At times we look like a million dollars and then, at times, our play is inconsistent," the coach said.

LAST SATURDAY'S overtime loss at Belvidere was decided at the free throw line. The Sequoits, shooting brilliantly, made 17 of their 28 field goal attempts in the first half and took a 34-26 lead.

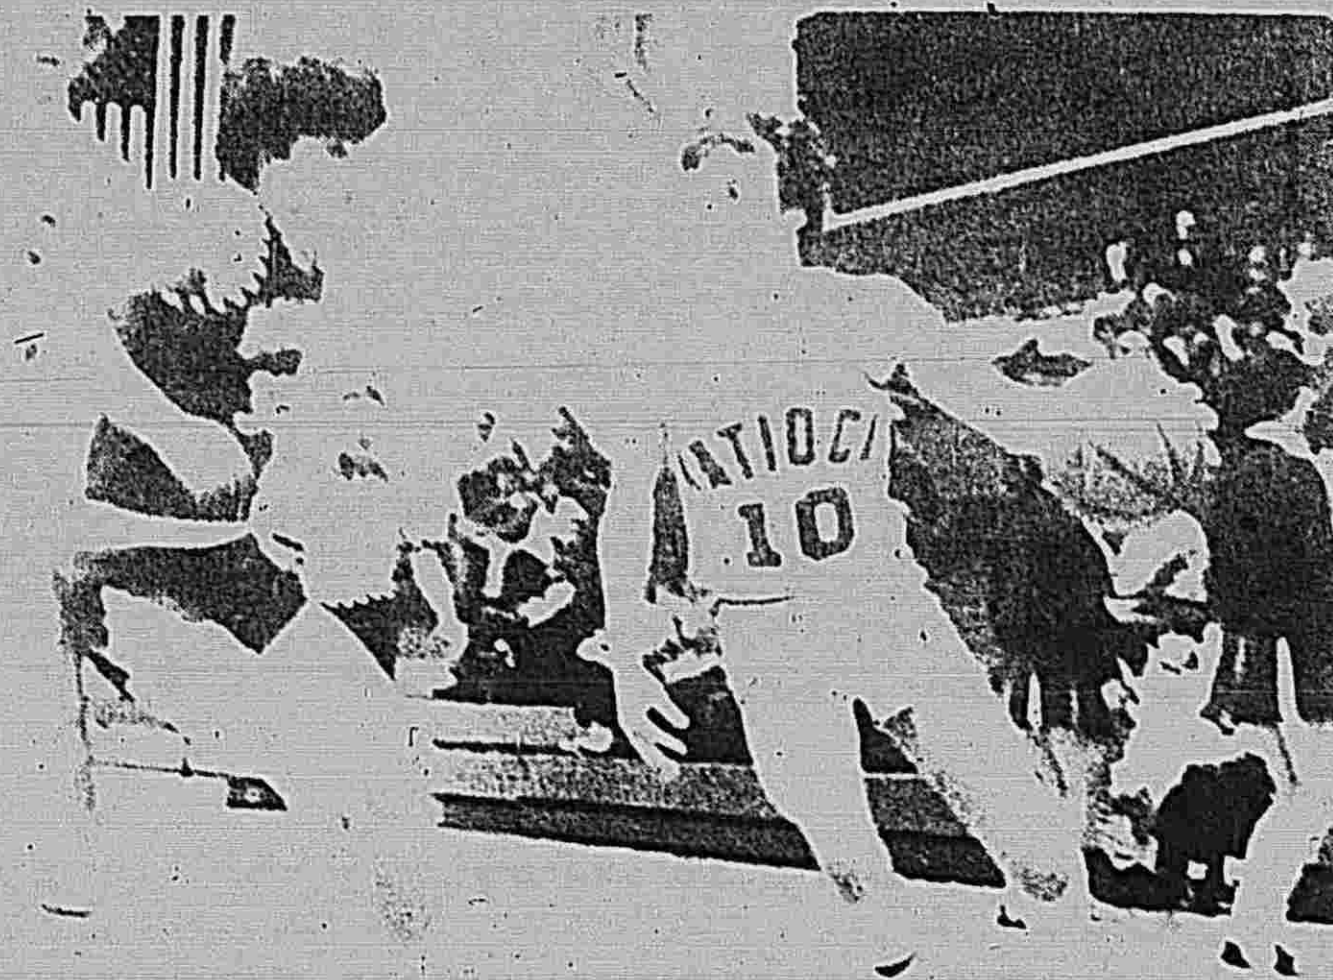

Controlling the boards and making only a few turnovers, they still led by seven points with only three minutes remaining. But then they missed five first shots on one-and-one bonus situations, and Belvidere was able to tie the game at the end of regulation time.

Belvidere moved ahead 63-61 in the overtime and, on the last play of the game a final shot by the Sequoits rolled off the rim.

"THE TEAM PLAYED much better," Andrews said. "They worked hard on defense and controlled the whole game ... it was a shame to lose because of foul shooting. That is usually one of our team's strong points."

Pete Ploss scored 22 points, Roger Korjenek 15 and Scott Gallagher 12.

Chris Oddsen swished all four of his field goal attempts and pulled down 12 rebounds.

Limerick cagers stay undefeated

The Limerick Lounge is still the Indiana State of the Antioch Men's Basketball League ... undefeated, that is. The Limerick boosted its record to 14-0 last week with a 57-28 victory over Century 21. Mike Perrone and Steve Bentel led the winners with 14 points each.

THIS WEEK the Limerick plays BJ Sports Center, which improved its record to 7-7 last week with a 57-45 win over Maestranzi Brothers, despite 19 points by Dick Grant of the losers.

BJ's Sports got 19 points from Pat Michalak and 15 from John Eder.

THE STATE Bank (2-12) surprised The Wharf 52-47 last week as Jeff Dresser hit for 17 points and Bob Huebner got 14. Steve Pilcher scored 17 for The Wharf.

The Wharf plays Century 21 this week and the State Bank tries to upset Maestranzi Brothers, which has an 8-6 record for second place in the league.

Tony Besson wins basketball contest

Tony Besson, a seventh grader at Antioch Upper Grade School, was the leading expert last week in the Antioch News' basketball contest.

He picked Lake Zurich to beat Antioch by eight points and Lake Zurich won by seven.

That gave Tony first place in the contest, a $15 savings account at the State Bank of Antioch.

THERE WAS A TIE for second between Mark Stewart, who picked Lake Zurich by five, and Chuck Janka, who forecast a nine-point win for the Bears.

Mark came closest in the tie-breaker, Belvidere's two-point win over Antioch, and will receive a check for $10, courtesy of Thelen Sand and Gravel Company.

Chuck will receive a check for $5 from Pedersen Bros. Implement Company.

Just missing out on the prizes was Ann Schoenleben, who picked Lake Zurich to beat Antioch by 10 points.

ANOTHER CONTEST appears on page 15 of this issue. Be sure to enter by Friday evening's deadline.

Faith Lutheran girls win conference title

The girls basketball team from Faith Lutheran in Antioch finished its season last week, winning the Lake Lutheran Athletic Conference tournament.

The first game of the tournament proved to be a rather easy one for the Lakers, as they defeated St. John's of Burlington, Wis. 32-4, coach Teri Kemper said.

Marie Lundgren led the Lakers in scoring with 11 points, while Cheryl Anderson added nine, and guard Laura Hedien added eight.

Kemper said the second game of the tournament proved to be one of the toughest for the Lakers as they downed Wisconsin Lutheran School of Racine 32-27.

The two teams were very evenly matched as they stayed within one to two points for the first three quarters of the game, she said.

The Lakers finally broke the tie by outscoring the W.L.S. team in the fourth quarter 13 to 8. Faith was led by Kathy Graef with 11 points, Cheryl Anderson with 10, and Marie Lundgren with eight.

In the championship game Sunday, the Lakers out-hustled the team from St. Luke's in Kenosha to win 36-22, the coach said. "The superior height of the two teams made it a good match," she added.

The key point of the game was the second quarter in which the Lakers scored 12 points while keeping the Kenosha team from scoring.

Laura Hedien was top scorer for Faith with 19 points, while Cheryl Anderson added eight. Team members Jodi Johnson added 4, Kathy Graef three and Marie Lundgren two.

The Faith team ended its season with a perfect 12-0 record to capture both the conference tournament title as well as the regular season title.

Sportsmen's Nite planned by Moose Club

Saturday, March 3, is the date set for Sportsmen's Nite at the Moose Home.

This year members are inviting the community of Antioch to help support the big night.

The Antioch High School Jazz Band, members of Antioch High School coaching staff as well as Supt. Warren Polley will be honored guests.

The night will open with Antioch's Jazz Band performing at 7 p.m. The coaching staff will speak on the high school's athletic programs and will show films of present and past years of ACHS sporting events.

The highlight of the ceremonies will be crowned with a donation from the proceeds of the Sportsmen's Nite program presented to Supt. Polley to be placed in a fund that enables underprivileged students to participate in school activities, such as sports, drama and music.

A $5 donation per ticket will enable the holder to enjoy a night of entertainment. Besides the program, a hot turkey meal, smoked fowl and fish and musical entertainment beginning at 9:30 p.m. will round out the evening.

Parents are encouraged to bring their young men and women to be a part of this event.

The hours for teens, accompanied by parents, at the Moose Lodge has been pushed to midnight for the evening.

Businesses, farms eligible for low-cost small business loans

A. Vernon Weaver, administrator of the Small Business Administration, declared 41 Illinois counties, including Lake county, a physical disaster area as the result of winter storms which have plagued the state between Dec. 31 and Jan. 25.

Weaver's action enables homeowners and tenants, business people and farmers, churches, private schools, and other non-profit organizations in the affected areas to qualify for low-cost, long-term SBA loans to restore or replace damaged property not covered by insurance.

John L. Smith, the SBA's Illinois District Director, said the agency is in the process of establishing emergency offices. He said sites for these offices will be announced shortly.

Smith said information about all SBA programming may be obtained throughout Illinois by calling the toll-free telephone number, 800-972-3177, which is manned between 8:30 a.m. and 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

The number was instituted following the declaration by SBA Jan. 19 of the entire state as an Economic Injury Disaster area as a result of blizzard conditions Dec. 31 to Jan. 1, Jan. 12 to 13, and those starting Jan. 15.

Smith said this declaration remains in effect. The Economic Injury declaration permits small businesses and farmers placed in a position of jeopardy as the result of the storms to qualify for low-interest, long-term loans, made or guaranteed by SBA.

Smith explained that today's physical declaration covers non-insured damages incurred by residences and all businesses.

In connection with residential losses, Smith said, affected persons may qualify for loans of up to $50,000 for real property, of up to $10,000 for personal property and of up to $55,000 for a combination of real and personal property.

Disaster business and farm loans are limited to $500,000, he added.

Legislation sets an interest rate of 7 3/8 percent in connection with SBA disaster loans, Smith said. He added that disaster loans may be made for periods of up to 30 years.

According to Smith, the borrower must present a bona fide estimate of loss following which a verification of loss will be made by SBA before final action is taken on the application.

The legislation also permits SBA to re-finance existing home mortgages, where substantial damage has been sustained.

The law authorizes SBA to suspend principal payments

Small business loans

for up to three years in hardship cases, Smith added.

The Economic Injury declaration is applicable only to small businesses and farms, and "only those which have been placed in a position of some jeopardy as a result of losses caused by the disaster," Smith said.

Under the Economic Disaster declaration, Smith said, "funds from loans made by or obtained through SBA may be used to provide working capital and pay financial obligations which the borrower would have been able to meet had it not been for the disaster."

Smith said that in order to qualify as a small business concern under the Economic Injury declaration, a business must meet the following size standards:

Retail and service business - Annual sales cannot exceed $2 million.

Wholesale business - Annual sales cannot exceed $9½ million.

Manufacturing firm - Cannot employ more than 250 employees.

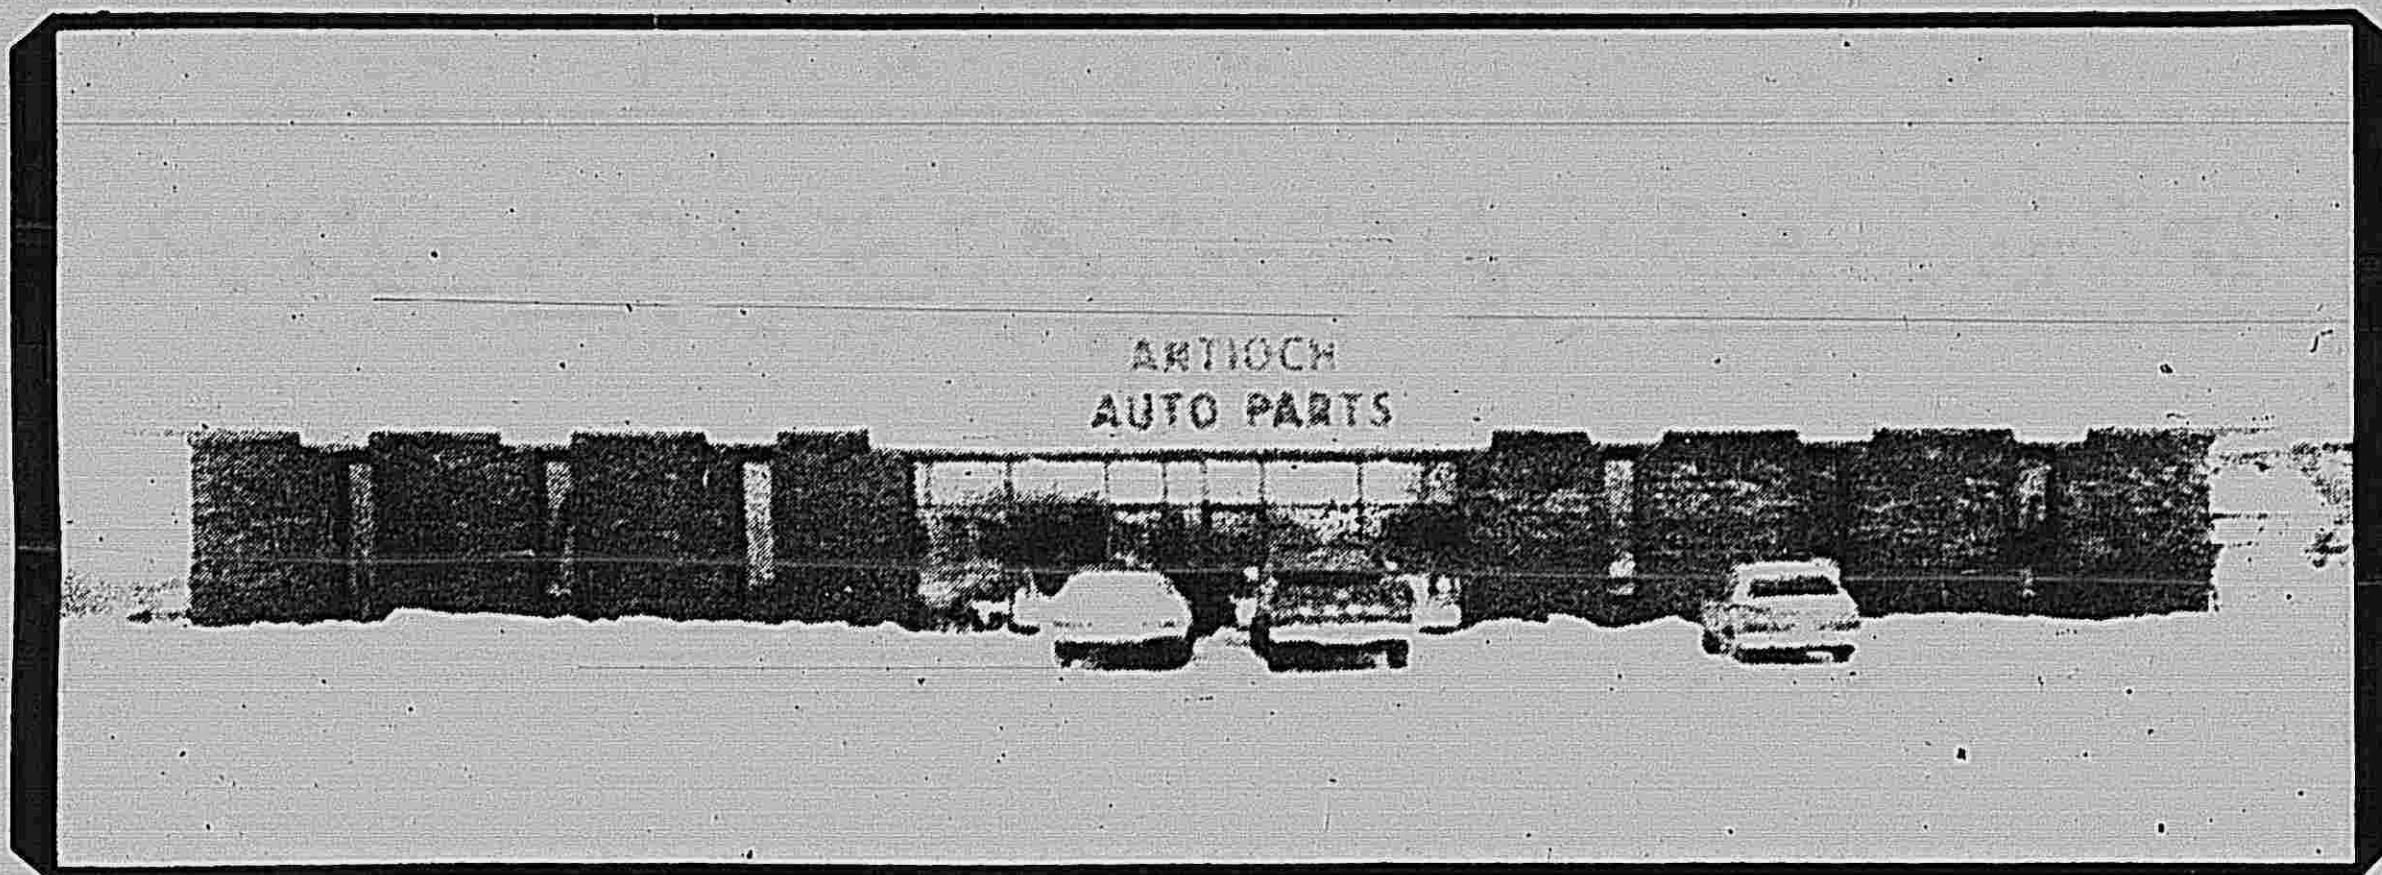

Farms - Annual gross income from sales not to exceed $1 million.

"There are exceptions to these criteria," Smith said. "Please contact SBA for clarifications."
